The Nervous System and Its Relation to Disease

No other system in the body has as vital a bearing on every diseased condition as does the nervous system It is thru this nervous system that that elusive something travels which actuates the entire human organism It is upon the activity of the nervous system that every organ in the body is dependent for its function The heart beats only because it receives thru the nervous system its normal quantity and quality of energy by way of the nervous mechanism The digestive system functions because it receives its proper quota of vitality thru the nervous system, and so we could go on and enumerate every tissue and organ of the body, and we would find that each is dependent upon the nervous system for its proper function

Whether the organs of the body are normal or not is also dependent upon the activity of the nervous system in supplying them their proper amount of energy That something, which is carried thru the nervous system, is comparatively an unknown quantity, yet experience proves its existence, and it has been designated by the term "mental impulse" These impulses are of different character They may be impulses of nutrition, of contraction of secretion, and many others Naturally the well being of any tissue is dependent absolutely upon the proper supply of these essential impulses They originate in the brain, and from here are transmitted, thru the spinal cord and nerves to all parts of the body If they are interfered with disease results in direct proportion to that interference This interference can only occur where the nerves emit from the spinal column, due to subluxations (misplaced vertebrae) If it happens that those nerve fibers are affected which supply the heart, then the heart is abnormal in its function, and so this is true of every organ and tissue of the body

The Chiropractor is trained to detect the subluxations, and correct them He does nothing but restore the vertebrae to their proper positions, thereby insuring normality and perfect function

Jam It With Your Heel

Jam your floor with the nails of your heel. The nails will dent the wood but there will be no crack in the varnish.

Scuff your feet along its surface, so the nails drag over it. Drag marks may show but there will be no white scratches on the varnish.

That is, if it is protected with Lowe Brothers Durable Floor Varnish. It stands wear and tear. Water does not affect it. Easy to use. Dries hard and stays hard. We recommend it.

St. Leo's Carry Off Highest Honors

In the competitive examination of the Catholic schools of Chicago for the scholarship at Providence, Miss Virginia Geddes of St. Leo's school received the honor of winning the four year scholarship. This is indeed an honor to both Miss Geddes and the sisters of St. Leo's school who have ever been noted for their earnest efforts in training the pupils.

However, Virginia will not accept the course she has won as she has planned to go to St. Mary's of the Woods convent in September, so that the next highest at St. Leo's will be given the scholarship.

The Daily Vacation Bible School

This community is becoming very much interested in a D. V. B. S., plans for which are being worked out by the Auburn Park Federated church. This school will begin at 9 a. m. July 6th and continue for five days per week through the month of July. All boys and girls between four and fourteen years of age are invited to attend. Each session will last from 9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., and during that time various activities will be engaged in. Opening exercises will be devotional, closing patriotic, and in between these will be Bible story telling, habit talks, drills and exercises, together with craft work. It is planned to make each Friday an outing.

There will be definite system and no child will be allowed to attend who comes merely for mischief-making. It is to be a school and will start and close promptly on time. Records will be kept of every child and every effort possible will be put forth to give the children a good time and relieve the mothers of the care of the little folks during the period mentioned above. The school is free to all.

Big Boosting Week for Auburn Park Hospital

This is the second week of the $500,000 campaign for the New Auburn Park Hospital and an army of men and women are combing the south side of Chicago, south of 55th St., for contributions to this worthy cause.

Political workers of all parties and all factions within parties are united for once in promoting this important venture. The wards to be canvassed have been divided into the voting precincts as the basis for solicitation and workers are making a thorough canvass of each precinct. Benjamin S. Wilson, chairman of the campaign committee, reports that the public is responding generously, but owing to the immense job of handling the campaign no announcement regarding the amount thus far collected can be made this week.

Residents of other sections of Chicago will be given an opportunity to contribute at a general tag day which will be held Thursday of this week. An army of 500 women will solicit funds in the loop on that day. Wednesday night a bunco party will be given at the Auburn Park Masonic Temple for the benefit of the hospital fund. Seventy-five prizes have been donated and promoters of the affair expect a record breaking crowd.

SOMETHING WORTH WORKING FOR

THE CAMPAIGN IS ON

Give that the New Auburn Park Hospital may be built. This will be your hospital---non-profiteering and non-sectarian. Give for the protection of yourself, your family and your neighbors. The shortage of hospital beds in Chicago, forces scores of sick to be denied admitance to hospitals daily, because there is no room! Give, give, give, give financial aid. Give some of your time. Get your neighbors and friends to give also.

If a volunteer solicitor does not call on you for your contribution, fill out the coupon and mail it to the Headquarters, 79th St. and Emerald Ave., or better still, bring your contribution into the headquarters personally and volunteer to get contributions from your neighbors and friends. We want your help, because this will be YOUR HOSPITAL.
